

Changes in the price of optical fiber cable raw materials

Overview

From late 2025 through the first quarter of 2026, the global fiber optic cable market experienced one of the sharpest and most unexpected price surges in its history. 652D fiber, bend-insensitive G. After an extended period of subdued pricing in several regions, optical fibre prices are rising sharply alongside sustained demand. The global fiber optic industry is entering a new pricing cycle. Over the past several months, upstream material costs and supply chain constraints have pushed fiber prices upward, directly impacting cable assemblies, patch cord production, and passive optical components. Industry reports indicate that average contract prices for standard single-mode bare fiber (G. 657A2 grades have all seen dramatic increases. This trend is no longer limited to the communications industry but is spreading to more fields that rely on high-performance optical fiber transmission, such as FPV, drone remote control, and vision link.
